

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR’S REPORT

To the shareholders Savola Group Company (A Saudi Joint Stock Company) Jeddah, Saudi Arabia

Report on the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements

Opinion

We have audited the consolidated financial statements of Savola Group Company (the “Company”) and its subsidiaries (together, the “Group”), which comprise the consolidated statement of financial position as at December 31 2025, and the consolidated statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income, consolidated statement of changes in equity and consolidated statement of cash flows for the year then ended and notes to the consolidated financial statements, including material accounting policy information.

In our opinion, the accompanying consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the consolidated financial position of the Group as of December 31, 2025, and its consolidated financial performance and its consolidated cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards (“IFRSs”) that are endorsed in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia and other standards and pronouncements issued by the Saudi Organization for Chartered and Professional Accountants (“SOCPA”).

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (“ISAs”) as endorsed in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor’s Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Company in accordance with the International Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants (including International Independence Standards) as endorsed in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia (“the Code”), as applicable to audits of consolidated financial statements of public interest entities, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the requirements of the Code. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Other Matter

The consolidated financial statements of the Group for the year ended December 31, 2024, were audited by another auditor who expressed an unmodified opinion on those statements on March 13, 2025 (corresponding to 13 Ramadan, 1446H).

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current year. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the consolidated financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

Key audit matter	How our audit addressed the key audit matter
Impairment of intangible assets and goodwill	We performed the following procedures, inter alia, to address the key audit matter:
Intangible assets and goodwill are carried in the consolidated statement of financial position at ₪ 1.4 billion.	• Obtained an understanding of the process adopted by management to determine the recoverable amount of goodwill and intangible assets and identified the key controls in this process. • Assessed the abovementioned controls to determine if they had been appropriately designed and implemented. • Assessed management’s identification of CGUs and the allocation of assets and liabilities to each CGU, including the reconciliation of these items to the accounting records of the Group. • Assessed the methodology used to determine the recoverable amount of each CGU against the requirements of IFRS Accounting Standards. • Tested, on a sample basis, the accuracy and relevance of input data in the models used to determine the recoverable amount of the CGUs by agreeing them to external observable data. • Assessed cash flow projections by comparing them to the Group’s historical results and performance as well as recent trends and market outlook, taking into consideration current market conditions. • Assessed the external valuation expert’s skills, independence, objectivity and qualifications and read their terms of engagement with the Group to determine if the scope of their work was sufficient for audit purposes. • Engaged our own valuation specialists to assess the value in use calculations and key estimates. • Performed sensitivity analyses on key management assumptions, such as growth and discount rates, to determine at what point an impairment charge would be required. • Assessed the adequacy of disclosures in the consolidated financial statements against the requirements of IFRS Accounting Standards.
IFRS Accounting Standards require that the recoverable amount of intangible assets with indefinite useful lives and goodwill be determined and compared to their carrying amounts, regardless of whether impairment indicators have been identified or not. This required the Group to allocate these items to Cash Generating Units (CGUs). The recoverable amount of intangible assets with finite useful lives are determined only when indicators of impairment have been identified. The recoverable amount is defined as the higher of value in use or fair value less costs to sell.
The Group has applied the value in use model, discounting future cash flows of each CGU and compared the result to the carrying amount. Any excess of the carrying amount over the recoverable amount is recognised in profit or loss as an impairment charge. No impairment charge was recognised during the year.
Management has engaged an external valuation expert to perform the assessment of the value in use.
The value in use model requires management to apply significant judgements and make significant estimates, including cash flow projections, growth rates and discount rates.
We identified the determination of the recoverable amount of goodwill and intangible assets as a key audit matter as a result of the level of judgements applied and estimates made by management and the level of audit effort required.
Refer to note 8 in the consolidated financial statements for more details relating to this matter.

Key audit matter	How our audit addressed the key audit matter
Valuation of Inventories Inventories are carried in the consolidated statement of financial position at ﷲ 4.7 billion. Inventories, which primarily consist of merchandise for resale and constitute a large number of individual items, are carried at the lower of cost, which is determined on the weighted average basis, or net realizable value (NRV). The Group has entered into commodity hedging contracts to manage the price risks relating to its purchases of raw sugar. These contracts therefore have an impact on any net realizable value adjustment which is recognized. Management applies the following factors, judgements and estimates to determine the NRV: • The nature of the inventory; • The age of the inventory at the reporting date; • Expiry dates in the case of perishable items; • Anticipated future sales based on historical experience; • In the case of raw sugar inventory, the fair market value of raw sugar at the reporting date. We have identified the valuation of inventories as a key audit matter as a result of the following: • The quantitative significance of the amount to the consolidated financial statements; • The level of judgements applied and estimates made by management; and • The level of audit effort required. Refer to note 4 in the consolidated financial statements for the accounting policy related to inventories, note 5 for more details on the critical judgements and estimates and note 12 for further disclosure relating to inventories held.	We performed the following procedures, inter alia, to address the key audit matter • Obtained an understanding of the process adopted by management to determine the NRV of inventories and identified the key controls in this process; • Assessed the abovementioned controls to determine if they had been appropriately designed and implemented; • Assessed the methodology used to determine NRV; • Attended physical inventory counts at selected locations to identify slow-moving or obsolete inventory items; • For the commodity hedging contracts, we engaged our internal specialist to assess, on a sample basis, the hedging relationships, to test the effectiveness of the hedge and to evaluate the methods used to determine the valuation of these hedges; • Tested the NRV of inventories, on a sample basis by verifying the subsequent sales invoices to confirm the selling prices and ensure the NRV was appropriately stated; • Evaluated the judgements applied and estimates made by management to determine the NRV of inventories by inspecting, on a sample basis, subsequent sales invoices to determine if the selling price exceeded the cost of the inventories; • Assessed the adequacy of disclosures in the consolidated financial statements relating to this matter against the requirements of IFRSs.

Other Information included in the Group’s 2025 annual report

Management is responsible for the other information. The other information consist of the information included in the Group’s 2025 annual report, but does not include the consolidated financial statements and our auditor’s report thereon. The annual report is expected to be made available to us after the date of this auditor’s report.

Our opinion on the consolidated financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the consolidated financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information identified above when it becomes available and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the consolidated financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit, or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. When we read the Group’s 2025 annual report If, we conclude that there is a material misstatement therein, we are required to communicate the matter to Those Charged with Governance.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Consolidated Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the consolidated financial statements in accordance with IFRSs that are endorsed in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia and other standards and pronouncements issued by SOCPA and Companies Law and the Company’s Articles of Association and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Group’s ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Group or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those Charged with Governance are responsible for overseeing the Group’s financial reporting process.

Auditor’s Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor’s report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISAs that are endorsed in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these consolidated financial statements.

To the shareholders Savola Group Company (A Saudi Joint Stock Company) Jeddah, Saudi Arabia

As part of an audit in accordance with ISAs that are endorsed in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Group's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Group's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
- Plan and perform the group audit to obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business units within the Group as a basis for forming an opinion on the Group financial statements. We are responsible for direction, supervision and review of the audit work performed for purposes of the group audit. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

We communicate with Those Charged with Governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide Those Charged with Governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence and, where applicable, actions taken to eliminate threats or safeguards applied.

For the matters communicated with Those Charged with Governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that the matter should not be communicated in our report because of the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.
